Do all of your applications interface with a single database?

*Do all of your systems talk to one another?
Share information?*

Can you consolidate all of your products into one Super PNR?

Can you package an entire itinerary dynamically?

Do all of your front-end and back office applications work and play well together?

Do you need to upgrade a communication protocol from ALC to XML/web services?

We can help! The Eastman Group has been helping companies in the travel industry integrate systems and automate business processes for more than 20 years. We have the expertise to assess your systems and customize an integration solution that will allow you to take advantage of the most current open systems technologies.

Why choose The Eastman Group? Not only do we have solid industry experience, but we have also developed a systems integration toolbox. At the core of this toolbox is our AutoLinkII™ engine. This switching tool allows us to connect disparate systems in a more efficient and reliable manner than other integrators. You benefit with a much faster and less expensive implementation. The end result is a more interactive business process, a more complete database, and a more efficient platform.
